Snowbreeze Fan Mail

Given below is the text of several hundred letters that poured in (mostly after the story about Snowbreeze appeared in Mail Today of March 5, and repeated by a newsagency the following day) from all over the country ordering single or multiple units of the green air-conditioner and not knowing that this poor middle-class inventor was not a manufacturer of Snowbreeze.

To protect the identity of the writers of these letters we have given here only their initials while their full names, emails IDs and address have been with-held in our records.

The primary objective of reproducing these letters here is to highlight the universal need for a cheap airconditioning device. Perhaps it may induce many enterprising people to manufacture unpatented Snowbreeze and cooling devices similar to it.

Dear Mr. Lal,,

My name is J. I am working with private company in cochin/Kerala.

Can u pls tell me how to make the lost cost snowbreeze air conditioners.

I have downloaded snowbreeze 4 pdf and studied it. can u tell me is there any step by step guide available for this

Best Regards

J

Dear Sir,

Plz let me know the availability if this air-conditioner, the contact details, service support etc.

We are interested in this product to install at our home and we are from kerala.

Thanks & Regards

AS

Dear Sir

how can I buy this product and to install it. It's showing a good market in Kerala and in my knowledge there's no any desert coolers are available in kerala.

Since I'm not a technical person i don't have much technical confusion. What I need to know is if i install this product how the service part.

Are you doing a mass production for commercial purpose and if you are interested i would like to go for the dealership in kerala for the same. We are currently in trading business for some products.

expecting your reply

Thanks & Regards

Dear Mr. Lal,

I recently read with great excitement about your simple airconditioning solutions. Snow breeze seems like a wonderful low cost and energy efficient device that I would like very much to try out in the coming summer. However the writeups on the site (greenairconditioner.org) were too telegraphic for me to get a proper sense of the mechanics involved in making the device. Therefore I was wondering if it would be possible to meet with you to see a finished product to get a better sense of how it works and how it can be made? Would be possible to arrange a demonstration session if I arranged a group of interested persons and all the materials required? Eagerly look forward to hearing from you.

With best wishes,
Yours truly

Snowbreeze. Kindly let me know how I can obtain it.

Thanks — Anonymous

Dear Sir,

I reside in Indirapuram. I am very impressed with your Green AC & wants to own one. Ca you please tell me how i can do?

Regards

PJ

Dear Mr. Lal

I read about your 'Snowbreeze' this morning in Mail Today and also went through your site.

I really wish to congratulate you for such an innovative idea.

Reading about 'Snowbreeze' has refrained me from going ahead with a conventional dessert cooler which I was thinking of installing at my premises, with an approximate budget of Rs. 10K.

Would really appreciate your kind advice / guidance on how to go about getting one customized for my purpose.

Wondering if your fridge model could also be workable with a car compressor?

Looking forward to your revert / guidance / contact.

Warm Regards

Namaskar Saroj ji,

I hope this mail finds you and Lal sahib in good health and cheer. After reading in today's Mail Today, the very inspiring article on Lal sahib and his path breaking work over the last few years my only regret is why I missed out on learning about him earlier. I am working on practical affordable solutions in renewable energy and water conservation technologies for the Indian Farmers. Your work in low cost airconditioning would help me in redesigning solutions which will potentially benefit poorer farmers with their milk and animal feed requirements and livestock health.

I would greatly appreciate if you and Mr Lal can spare 15/20 minutes at any time suiting your convenience, so that I can benefit from his wisdom and advise in the area of applying technologies relevant to upliftment of rural communities. Your approach to free propagation of such a/c technology is truly inspiring and humbling and hope to meet you soon. Kindly let me have your contact no and address in Saket, so that I can seek a personal meeting with such a remarkable human being.

i did like your new invention it is something new.

i am a Air Conditioner Dealer in Mumbai. When I read the Concept on how does it work. it is unusually.but one question dont you think it is expensive and not also eco friendly because you need to put ice or cold water in it, which you dont get without a refrigerator which incerases the cost of it. ---

Hi,

I gone through website <http://www.greenairconditioner.org>. very impressed by the innovative idea and efforts.

Few suggestions.

1) Peltier elements can be used to automate the Snowbreeze.

a. www.thermoelectricsupplier.com.

2) The shown automated modal efficiency (cooling power per power usage) may be less to normal AC as energy is wasting in 2 time heat conversion, that is cooling refrigerator and again cooling air, instead we can use the cooling coils inside refrigerator directly.

Hello Sir,

Your Snowbreeze invention is a testimony to the human mind and the endless possibilities if we just opened our eyes and hearts. Sir I was just wondering if SnowBreeze 4 was available anywhere in Delhi. I've been in the city for two years and I am extremely sensitive to heat. I'm a journalist with NDTV and have been looking for some sort of cost-effective yet green resolve for my situation. I haven't fully understood how to make it on my own after reading up on it on your web page. I have a desert cooler already so it would be great if you could help me out. Thanks again for making me believe that nothing is impossible

Yours Sincerely

Dear Shri Lal,

I have read on your Snowbreeze room cooler in the internet. This is quite interesting. Since, I am not in Delhi and it is not a manufactured item also, I would be happy to receive some informations on making the product by engaging a carpenter over here in Kolkata. So, please provide me with the following informations:

1. Size of Snowbreeze
(Length, Breadth and Height)
2. Is it on wheels, so that it can be moved from one room to another?
3. Power it will draw (in watts)
4. Approximate cost to make it
5. Some step by step informations to make it mentioning
  - a) Type of wood (plywood will do?)
  - b) Type of metal sheet (what material and thickness)
  - c) Size of copper wire (what it is doing for cooling)
  - d) Ice box material and size
  - e) Ice water drain out provision after use if any?
  - f) Specification of the fan and its location

Thanking you and anticipating your response,

Please forward the details about snowbbreeze cooler and its cost. How do I procure it in Jammu.

Thnx

Dear Sir,

I happened to see your website yersterday and was very much delighted to see such a green device.I dont know why it is confined only to Delhi when the need for cool air in summer is inevitable for all.When such an invention was made with such a strenuous effort with tireless patience, the Govt. should have given it a wast publicity especially when Beaureau of Energy Conservation was formed after the advent of Energy Conservation Act.

I am a resident of Visakhapatnam,Andhra Pradesh which is a costal area which is humid in nature.Would the dehumidifying action meet our requirement as ordinary coolers wont meet our requirement of dry air and cause more humidity.If so, I would like to have one for me and could you guide me to possess one?

Awaiting your reply,
Sincerely yours,
Retd. Chief Engineer

Dear Sir,

I am excited to know about the 'Snowbreeze AC' developed by you.

Ever since I came across the dry heat in Delhi and read about invention of desert cooler in my college days in 1980, I have been wondering why someone cannot improvise on the cooler to make affordable cooling possible. Having heard about your feat, I want to know more about the functioning of the device. In fact I would request you to kindly let me know the following:

- a) Can the device be installed in my residence located in FARIDABAD?
- b) Will it be suitable to install it in the drawing room (22 X 14 ft) and the lobby of similar dimensions attached with the drawing room ?
- c) Is it possible for someone to visit my home and suggest suitable size for installation? Can the requisite size be then made available?
- d) what would be the daily requirement of ice?
- e) what would be the power load and power consumption?
- f) what would be the cost of device and its installation?
- g) How to take care of any requirements after its installation i.e spares, maintenance etc.

I want to make life easy for my old parents who lived life in cool environs of kashmir and are now forced to face the deadly Delhi heat. Therefore i seek ur help and request for an early response.

with regards

RK

Sir,

I have learnt that you have invented a green air conditioner for the domestic use. I appreciate your inventive skills as this is going to prove a boom for the middle class families.

I shall appreciate if you kindly provide us one such unit for our use at home. You are kindly requested to let us know the cost of this air conditioner for the cooling of 150 sq. ft area at the earliest, so thae we can place the order for the same. Awaiting for an early reply.

Hello,

Hope you are keeping well.

I found this article in Yahoo: <http://in.news.yahoo.com/248/20100305/1606/ttc-green-ac-that-s-cheap-as-a-cooler.html> about your product.

You have come up with a wonderful and economical invention to fight scorching summer, the eco-frindly way.

We are planning to put an Old Age Home and Other things if God Willing ... in the near future. We found your device interesting and economical apart from it being eco-friendly.

We have few clarifications with reference to it's usage and mailing you regarding the same.

1. I am looking at the latest Snowbreeze 4 model. You have mentioned it's automated and can work without ceiling fan. But I din understand, one point - You have mentioned it can be connected to a refrigerator or chiller unit. Does that mean we need that additionally for using it? If so, how does it work?

2. If there an outlet where water is drained and how does it work ?

We would like to go for one unit, for our home usage for experiment purpose .. and also how long can we use this device.

Look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thanks & Regards

Dear Mr.Lal- I am delighted to receive your mail. Also congratulations and lots of wishes for your effort to improve the product since we came to know each other thro' mail. Many thanks. However I told you that I worked on this product but stopped halfway as you told me the new improved versions. At this stage I may go forward. But I would develop the AC VERSION ONLY. Since kolkata is very humid and desert cooler is not comfortable. In view of above if you could elaborate details of AC Snowbreeze for a room size of 200 sq.ft carpet area with dimensions etc. it will be very helpful for me. Once developed it will fulfill yor dream of popularising the product for energy consumption and low cost AC for people like us. Thanks once again. Awaiting quick response. Regards, Jayanta Mukherjee.

Respected sir,

I read with much interest your blog and your website on the home made airconditioning products that you have developed.

I am currently at www.donboscobeatitudes.org where we care for over 500 residents including 100 in our free aged home, 130 at the leprosariums and 200 children aged 5-18 (boys and girls). Our services are free but we have a tough time tiding over the summer -especially for our elderly residents and currently we are unable to afford airconditioning the area due to investment and running costs constraints.

Is there some way we could purchase your kits here somewhere at Chennai and would someone be ready to support the product here locally -please do let us know. At chennai power supply is not a problem and hence it might be best to avoid ice-refilling model but instead go i for a self cooling/automatic model. Please keep in mind that we are at a coastal region where humidity levels are already high and extremely hot most of the year round.

affly yours.,

Dear Sir,

I am thankful to you for giving the reply and I salute to you for the great courage which you showed at this age. I hope that you will surely think about the important point of patent which I was talking about. The machine which you have designed is very beneficial for middle class people.

I would request you once again to do something for the patent because we all know that America is very cunning in the matter of patent. They will try to get the patent of your wonderful machine and our coming generations have to get this machine on their mercy. AFTER GETTING THE PATENT, AMERICA WILL SELL THIS MACHINE AT A VERY VERY HIGH PRICE.

PLEASE TAKE THE PATENT OF THIS MACHINE. IT IS IN THE INTEREST OF OUR COUNTRY. PEOPLE OF INDIA WILL REMEMBER YOU FOR THIS GREAT EFFORT.

I will wait for your reply regarding the patent.

dear mr. lal

i am very glad to know about your "air cooler" i am keenly interested to know details of your invention. would you be so kind to let me know your telephone and mobile number for a chat.

i am a bengali hailing from lucknow and living in germany since july 1965. professionally i am a " new product development engineer" apart from professional success i have created seven new products. among them in may 1965 at the age of 25 a month before i left india for the first time the water cooler was designed by me and a single unit was fabricated by our sheet metal - pavement - hand worker. later this man earned a huge amount by selling this product. in the next eight years, this product became attractive outside lucknow and now it is a world product.

naturally, i want to know more about your product. i am sure, i am able to add some other know how to your product to make it more efficient. i have worked out such ideas in the last five years which also prevents bacteria found in old or stored water.

with best wishes

dear sir,

i congratulate you for bringing such a nice product.i am a dentist and i cannot afford electricity bill of air conditioner.financially A/C is very unaffordable to me, therefore i have decided to get some alternate method.i have a question please answer:

1)in delhi summerb brings heat upto 50 deg.celcius.can your snow breeze drop temperature to 25 deg celcius?

2)i have a hall (my office) of 11 feetx 40 feet.can your snow breeze work here?

3)what will be the cost?

4)i have a refrigerator of 165 litr capacity.will the ice produced by it sufficient?

5)will this drop the electricity bill in comparision of A/C 2tonne.(ie combined bill of refrigerator and snow breeze).

6)is maintenace expensive?

please answer my questions genuinely

I am always interested in similar equipments which saves energy. At home I use solar energy to heat water. My house is also constructed by the renowned architect Sri.G.Sankar who is known for constructing low cost houses at the same time aesthetically beautiful. Rain water is also harvested by me in a minor way.

Meanwhile I will be trying to assemble a small snow breeze for myself even though there are a few areas where I am confused.

like. 1. Circumference of the rings. and the exact places the slots are to be made on them.

2. Thickness of the plywood board. 3. Gauge of aluminum sheets.

Should the aluminium container immersed first be closed with a lid.

A little more specific on how the slit at the bottom of the air duct has to be made.

How the one inch slits on the rings for air air passage are to be made.

In the pictures we can see 2 plastic buckets stacked one on top of the other. why is that so.

and finally, does the Snow Breeze remain half open as shown in the pictures ie the aluminium cylinder is seen protruding from the plastic bucket. wont the barrel fully immerse into the bucket.

Hoping to hear from you

wishing you good health

Hello,

This is vibhor shroff from kolkata...I have read your article in yahoo....Very pleased to know such an invention is made & thats too in our country....Very happy for Mr Lal.

I need to have a AC in Rs 5000 ..I have seen the pictures...But I dont know how to make it by own..

Do you sell the AC..?? If dont then whom to conact...??? I want to have one...& can a normal refrigerator produce that much of ice which is needed for running it in night...

How much will it charge to sent the AC over here...??

I am a school teacher - now past 60. Yes, I want succour from the heat and humidity of the summer in these parts. But I don't very much like, nor can I afford, the energy guzzling gadgets which also put an unbearable burden on Mother Nature. Hence my interest in the Snowbreezer.

However, I am not technology-savvy and would rather go without one than venture to make one for my comfort.

Sincerely yours,
AKB

Where can i get the aircooler for a reeom in my house situated in Tanjore at Tamil Nadu.

Dear Mr Lal,

I have retired long back from service and your idea of green airconditioner which is cost effective and also saves electricity bill, has really attracted me. As I do not have any aptitude for even small technical assembly,I may not be able to make snow breeze myself.

I would ,therefore, request you to inform the place or outlet where I can purchase the snow breeze. Or alternatively I may take my air cooler to the person concern, and ask him to fit the copper pipes and almunium foils etc. I shall pay for all the material and labour.

Can you kindly give me the address and phone number to contact.

Thanking you

Hello,

i would like to buy some of your coolers .I am leaving in jaipur . If you have dealer here pls let me know the adress or phone number or you can get in touch with me.

Thanks

I am very much interested to have a set of your model of air-conditioning m/c. I am at Puri where the desert coolers do not function due to the high humidity of the atmosphere and due to high humidity the heat becomes un-durable throughout the day.

I read your pdf file in the net but was not able to get the whole details from it and without a clear idea to start building a set is foolish as I will have to start from where you had started.

So I plan to purchase at least a set and ask for your permission to show others the know-how for building up sets for their use. It will be a great help for the poor, needy and suffering people of this area leaving aside the national help in power saving.

Thanks for the initiative you have taken and with regards,

Waiting for an early reply, i have read in newspapers about the greenairconditioner. It is very useful and economical. I am thinking to install some units in my office in the current summer season.KINDLY SUGGESTON THE POINTS GIVEN BELOW:-

office building consists of six stories. each story has big halls of dimension 100m40m3m.

how many units would be required in one hall.any big unit is possible.

in there any manufacturer or consultant in or around gwalior. we are using 150 desert coolers at present.is it possible to convert the existing units.

Dear Mr. Lal

I have read about your signal initiative on converting ordinary desert coolers into green ACs. The effort is highly innovative and laudable for many reasons

I am a resident of Gurgaon and would like to utilise the technology you have developed for converting the industrial cooler I have installed at my residence (1200cfm). We have ducted air from this cooler (on the terrace) into the 2nd/1st/GF of the house. Unfortunately it does consume a lot of water and also becomes ineffective post May-June when we end up having to use conventional ACs.

We would like some technical hand representing yourself to visit us and help us with conversion of this contraption into your wonderful green AC. We will, of course, be paying for the effort. I am also open to any other suggestion that you may have
Look forward to hearing from you
Thanks & Regards,

greetings

First of all let me congratulate you for this fantastic invention

I am intereted in your product infact ihave many friends of mine got interested our only issue is will this product be good enough to be used in areas of india with high humidity.

we live in assam where humidity reached upto90% and more...and here the usual desert coolers are a total failure because the air already has a very high water content and coller blows more water in it...leading sometimes to cold and allergies also.

So please let me know if your product will be fine to be used.

i hope i can use your product rest is all best

Thanks for your time and effort

Dear Mr.M.B.Lal,

At the outset, I wish to congratulate you and thank you immensely for the pioneering innovation of Snowbreeze air conditioner !

I am a resident of Mathura and would like to buy the latest model of Snowbreeze air conditioner/cooler. Kindly let me know the address, phone details etc., to get it in Delhi/Mathura.

Thanks and regards

V.P.S

I've come to know about your invention...

Are you making such ACs for sale?

Ours is an international charitable and religious organisation in the name of 'Yogoda Satsanga Society Of India' and we have one branch Ashram in Noida built in 5 acres and has the facilities of 100 residential rooms for members.

If found to be suitable we may buy 100 units for our use .Could you arrange for demo at our site

Regards,

KNS

Dear Sir,

I have been following your inventions for the past two to three years right from model 1 till the latest model 4.First of all thanks sir for not patenting the model so that millions of people around the country can make use of it.I wanted to make one myself here in Mumbai for my parents But nowhere could i find the manual of making them in plain laymans language.And i am a bit confused of all the four to five models.I had some queries regarding them.I had spoken to Hasan also but i could not understand much and tried to call you but your wife told me that you were unwell and told me to mail you regarding the queries.

I work in a PSU in Mumbai am 30years old just married with a small kid and am able to afford a A/c but i was kinda impressed by your invention and decided against buying a new A/c and going in for your invention which i think is totally carbon neutral(totally safe for the mother earth).Now for the queries i have on your invention is that

- 1) Do we still require huge quantity of ice to be put in the latest model?
  - 2) If yes then how much ice would be required for a 10 hr night use and for a 10 hr day use?
  - 3) There is some mention of using five litres of chilled water what is that for ? Does that eliminate the use of ice in your latest model?
  - 4) How much will i be able to save in terms of carbon emission for every 10 hr use of the latest model ?
  - 5) How much money and electricity will i be saving if i use your latest invention in place of a power guzzling A/c?
  - 6) In our area the rate of per kg of ice is Rs 5 .So if 3 kg of ice is required per hour then for 10 hrs 30 kg is required that amounts to Rs 150 per day and Rs 4500 per month? Carbon emission are saved but money is spent more on using your latest invention pl explain in detail?
  - 7) I have got a 300 litre fridge at home how much kg of ice can be made in the freezer so that the outside iceman can be totally eliminated?
  - 8) Can i see the working of all the four models of your invention if i come to Delhi?
  - 9) Is there anybody in Mumbai who can guide me thru the making or will i have to come to Delhi to see the making or can i come to delhi and buy one from Hasan directly?
  - 10)Your mini snowbreeze model a boon for elderly people do you still recommend it or you only recommend the latest model?
  - 11) One of your earlier models could be used as a room heater also is it possible in the latest model?
- Sir i would kindly appreciate if you answer all my doubts and queries as soon as possible and one more request sir If i come to Delhi anytime can i personally come and see you?

Thanking you

Dear Mr Lal,

I want to learn the process so that i can really help many others in doing the same and help in saving mother earth.And sir it would be really helpful for millions of people in India if u try and make a small solar panel for generating electricity because of enormous electric shortage in our country and high billing rates by the power distributing companies. I am trying to do so for the past four to five months but unable to do so.I have been using resources from like minded people and the internet but failed in many attempt.I think thats because i do not have any technical knowlege.I will keep trying but if a expert person like you tries i am sure that would be a boon and sure shot sucess.God Bless you Sir and may you live long for HUMANITY

Madam[

I have read in your website than Shri M B Lal envented the Snowbreez Aircooler for domestic use. I remember Mr Ratan Tata who is invented Nano Car for Middle class people. As you write in net If this is totaly fact than Shri M B Lal envented Middle class Aircondition which is vary important. I pray for him long live and envent some other instrument.

I want to purchase this snowbreez aircooler but I have some doubt. So if you please my quary is :-

1. How many days this cooler run 5 years or not.
- 2 I have life in top floor is snowbreez suited me.
- 3 How can I see this cooler before purchase.

So I eagerly wait for your response.

Hi Saroj,

I have come across one article regarding the Green Air Conditioner and I really liked the concept.

Could you please tell me if I want to get it, how would I get it?

I would like to go for the conditioner which runs with water..not with Ice.

Kindly let me know the prices of all kinds of machines and the process to get the material and the payment mode.

Thanks

Dear friend,

Hope you are doing fine. I completely understand your inability to manufacture and cater to all the customer' needs.

I and my father, are deeply interested in manufacturing there ACs for all your customers. We are keenly interested in learning how to make the devise from you in person.

Also, we are situated in Rohini, Delhi. So the problem of transportation cost does not arise.

I would really appreciate your thought and views regarding the same.

Please provide us the oppourtunity to serve people and start a new venture.

Thanks and regards,

Hi,

First of all my heartiest congratulations to your team for the innovation in this field.

Do you manufacture these models? If yes, how and from where can I get them.

Where can I get the book on how to make your green ac models at home.

Dear Mr. Lal,

I thank you and salute you for inventing Snowbreeze which is a boon for middle class people like me. I live in Gurgaon and want to install snowbreeze which should act just like an AC ( i dont need it as a dual purpose machine working like an air cooler) for my 100 sqft room. Kindly let me know the best possible way to do it.

Waiting for your reply in an inclement weather which is turning hostile by the day.

Thanks and best regards,

This Request for Information(RFI) needs your prompt attention.
We have the following message for you:

Dear Mr. M. B. Lal,

Glad to know you are trading portable air conditioners. I think you must be interested in our new air conditioner.

Our company has developed a new revolutionary air conditioner. This new air conditioner is completely green and energy-saving. It doesn't use compressor or R22, R40. The cooling only comes from water evaporation. Our new air conditioner maximizes the evaporation efficiency, with special cellulous pad. During this process, 35°C air temperature will be reduced to 27°C. This is very high cooling efficiency with only $117 price. Such unit can cover 25 m<sup>2</sup>, and can replace 24000btu wall split unit or window unit. In 2010, copper and steel prices are highest in history. As a result, air conditioner will surely be more expensive. So, more people cannot afford air conditioner. It is sure that air conditioner market will be smaller. Customers need cheap cooling solution. If you offer them an alternative cooling product, big business success will be got.

As your company is well-known in your market, so we first offer you the business chance. We wish to help your company extend business range. 21st century's topic is low-carbon life. We believe you have interests on such energy-saving green product.

Please feel free to reply to us for more details.

Your delay reply will help your competitor get the agency.

Sincerely yours,

Annie

Dear Mr Lal,

I spoke to you (actually Ms Lal) a couple of weeks ago and I was told that you are improving the product and the new improved product will be ready in a week. I hope it is ready by now.

I am interested in buying the product. How do I go about it? Should I call you? Or maybe you can give me the number of your mechanic/carpenter and I can get in touch with them and get it fixed.

I live in Rohini, Delhi.

Thanking you

Dear Sir,

I live in Chennai and would like to buy a snowbreeze air cooler. Could you please tell me if you can ship it to Chennai and how I can pay for it?

Thanks,

Sir,

I have just visited your website and come to know about your wonderful cooler. I would like to know is it equally effective if we use water instead of ice-cubes in it. Secondly, is it also effective if we use it as a room-cooler i.e. keep the cooler inside the house and not at a window since I have a two room flat and there is no scope of keeping the cooler outside the house.

Awaiting your reply.

Dear Sir,

After going through your website, we are impressed with your creation. Is there any possibility to buy this from kolkata? If so please let us know the contact details.

dear sir,

i am very glad to recieve ur mail about snow breeze 4. actually it is very intresting item and as good as very useful in our life also.

but it is very difficult to assemble it my self. so it is my humble request to u that u get me atleast one piece tottaly assembled weather it is old or new no matter but i will pay u full amount.

if that also is not possible then suggest me from where can i get in delhi.actually i live in ahmedabad and i dont know more about delhi. please give me perfect address and phone number to whom i aproach. i will take the delivery personally from ur city.

pl. reply me soon and i will be thankful to u.

thanks.

P( ahmedabad)

hi, I am from ahmedabad.I have business of electronics dealing in many items like t.v,dvd,radios,and A.C.we have 5 outlets in the city in different areas.

I have seen your new invention.on net of green a.c.cum coolers.

I am really interested to manufacture of these above items in my factory.i have got the factory area of about 3000 sq ft.i was assembling t.v.there.but now a days i have stopped to assemble them.

now you suggest us how it will be possible to work with you.because we need your expertise for this.I would like to come over there and meet you personally to decide the terms & conditions.

Investment is not a problem for me. Waiting for your early reply.

Thanking you

Dear Sir

I am Col Dhawan , an Army officer presently based at Meerut. I saw your site only yesterday on snowbreezer 4 and immediately realised how useful the innovation can be for the Army.

I belong to Delhi and would request to know from you the following

Can i come over and have a look so that i can understand the fabrication part easily

Also, can i get a prototype of it in delhi . Transportation from Delhi, i can manage on my own hoping to hear from you .Regards and God Bless

Comments on the IBNLive video aired on May 12, 2008

Binomon: really fantastic..... i would like to learn more .if get details from 'snow breeze' by Sri. M.B.Lal, please give the availability of the same. the steps of ibn is appreciated (Posted: Wednesday, May 14, 2008 at 07:19)

Kanwar: Great effort by Mr. Lal. Generously he has not patented it unlike other vulture who sell 1 Re. technology for Rs. 100/- for ex: Microsoft (Posted: Tuesday , May 13, 2008 at 00:02)

Shashidhara.v: The heat solution given by Mr.M.B.Lal is cool,when it is very hot during summer man. I thank IBN for publishing this innovation. Now I want to innovate and develop this innovation made by Mr.M.B.Lal. Plz provide me with the images or the blue print of this innovation. Thanks by Shashidhara.v Bangalore (Posted: Monday , May 12, 2008 at 23:25)

Karthik R Summer: Solutions given by M B Lal is really great. IBN is doing good job. One question?? Where will we get the book "Snow Breeze" written M B Lal. (Posted: Monday , May 12, 2008 at 16:49)

It is enough to survive most power cuts. It is low cost, low tech but a perfect answer to beat the heat." - CNN-IBN TV news channel "It's cheap to make. Two carpenters can make it in two days." - The Statesman (in a full page article on "Snowbreeze")

"Snowbreeze is a simple non-patented invention that helps people keep cool during the sizzling hot summers – all at a fraction of the cost required to run conventional air conditioners."– THE HINDU

"M.B. Lal has devised this way to keep his room cool when rest of Delhi seethes under the summer heat and humidity." – Indian Express

Dear Sir,

We are looking for some cooling solution to provide to our customer in Thailand upcountry.
The snowbreeze seems good for a hot country as Thailand. Could you send us your quotations and more explanations on your different models.

Thanks a lot for your response

Best regards,
